Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee.

Claim 1 may be read on Lee's Fig. 3 in the following manner: "a plurality of pseudo-random generating unit(s)" (LFSR #1—LFSR #3), "output random number generating unit" (EX-OR gate 136), "physical random number generating unit" (NL 2) and "switching unit" (AND gates 120 and 124).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee and Vincent et al (Vincent).

The claims only differ from Lee in that the switching unit is controlled by the physical random number generator with its output used as the clock input for one of the pseudo-random generating units. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Lee so that at least one of Lee's LFSRs receive their clock input from a physical random number generator because this is precisely what Vincent teaches in Fig. 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In lines 2 and 7 of claim 1 "unit" should be plural. Claims 2 and 3 are inconsistent with claim 1 because when the clock signal is controlled by the physical random number, claims 2 and 3 corresponding to Figs. 1 and 3, then the switching unit does not determine whether or not a pseudo-random number generated by at least one of the pseudo-random number generating unit is used, claim 1 corresponding to Figs. 4 and 5.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to DAVID H. MALZAHN whose telephone number is (571)272-3727. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th from 7:30 to 6:00.
